

Vocal Impact

Your voice is you. It reveals your past and communicates your present.

If you long for a voice filled with resonance and power, if you feel strain in your throat after speaking or if your suggestions and proposals have gone unheeded because your voice carries no authority, this programme is for you.

Kuhnke Communication provides Senior Managers and Directors with essential Voice Coaching and Communication Skills training to give them the competitive edge. Our voice coaching is developed from a strong technical base and is driven by our clients' own business objectives, leading to the delivery of a robust message with clarity and conviction.

As a result of this coaching you will be able to:

- Connect with yourself, your material and your listener
- Communicate clearly, concisely and convincingly
- Establish credibility with stakeholders

Duration: Half Day

Number of Candidates: 1-6
